ARTHUR COUTY

Dies at Nickerson, Kans. Funeral Held Here Yesterday Afternoon From Cloverport Hotel.

The remains of Arthur Couty, who died Saturday in Nickerson, Kans., reached here yesterday morning on the five o'clock train. The body was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Couty, parents of the deceased, and Mr. Joe Couty and sons, Joe and Will Couty, of Owensboro.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from The Cloverport Hotel, the services were conducted by Rev. Dillan, and the interment took place in the Cloverport Cemetery.

Mr. Couty was quite a young man, but had been an invalid six years. His death was quite a relief to him. He was twenty-two years of age and moved away from here eight years ago. Rheumatism was the cause of his death. Mr. Couty was a member of the Nickerson Methodist church. In Cloverport there are quite a number of young people who were his playmates and regret his death. Mr. Couty loved Cloverport and it was his request to be buried here.

MRS. GARDNER

Dies At The Ripe Old Age Of Ninety-Three Years At Her Home In Hardinsburg.

Hardinsburg, Jan. 31.—(Special)—Mrs. R. G. Gardner fell asleep January the thirtieth at five minutes after 2 P. M. She was ninety-three years of age. Mrs. Gardner and her beloved husband came to Hardinsburg sixty years ago. They conducted a boarding school until after the close of the Civil War. For three weeks Mrs. Gardner had been very ill and her suffering had been intense. Expressions of deepest faith would be uttered even when the pain was almost unendurable. Her son, Dr. T. W. Gardner, Supt. of the Western Lunatic Asylum, was with her at the time of her death, also her son, Mr. R. G. Gardner, of this place. Dr. Charles Gardner, of Grand Tower, Ill., came to the funeral. Dr. Will, of Colorado Springs, Col., was unable to be present.

A very strong character has passed from our midst. Mrs. Gardner's most active interest was the work of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of which she was president for thirty years. She was a cripple for eight years and devoted most of her time to reading. Her mind was very active and her conversation characterized by broad charity, sweetness of spirit as well as extensive reading. Her sons may well call her blessed as they consider her life of good works.

They had been sweethearts for a year or more. Mrs. Stone has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Chas. Kiel, other relatives and friends here since Christmas. Wednesday she and Mr. Stone left on the morning train for Louisville. Before leaving it is said, that Mr. Stone bought nearly all the fruit and candy in town to take to Mr. and Mrs. Babbage to help their consent. Mrs. Stone is just eighteen years of age, and is a handsome young girl.

DON'T WAIT.

Take Advantage Of A Cloverport Citizen's Advice Before It Is Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till serious kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Cloverport citizen's experience

A. Fallon, Railroad St., Cloverport, Ky., says: I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills live up to the claims made for them. My kidneys and bladder were disordered for twelve years. My back ached severely and when I stooped or lifted, sharp twinges darted through my loins, causing me to suffer intensely. When I first arose in the morning I was lame and sore and the slightest work exhausted me. I was also languid and at times felt very nervous. Headaches and dizzy spells were added to my affliction and too frequent passages of the kidney secretions caused me great annoyance, particularly at night when I was forced to rise from three to six times. I used but one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Fisher's Drug Store and received almost entire relief. I intend to continue with them and have no doubt that I will soon be entirely cured.

Unchanging Sport.
The sport of deerstalking is still the most natural and most nearly allied to the hunting of primitive man that is to be found in the British islands. The difference between the actual hunting of the hungry Piet and the stalking of the owner of a modern deer forest is little more than the weapon.—Field.

ON GAME TRAILS WITH ROOSEVELT

Habits of the Buffalo, Deemed by Many Hunters as Africa's Most Dangerous Beast, Described by Former President.

IN the February Scribner's former President Theodore Roosevelt in his article on "African Game Trails" describes as follows the habits of the buffalo he saw during a hunt in which he participated while a guest at Mr. Heatley's ranch, lying between the Rowero and Kamiti rivers:

"As I have said before, the buffalo is by many hunters esteemed the most dangerous of African game. It is an enormously powerful beast, with, in this country, a coat of black hair which becomes thin in the old bulls and massive horns which rise into great bosses at the base, these bosses sometimes meeting in the old age so as to cover the forehead with a frontal of horn. Their habits vary much in different places. Where they are much persecuted they lie in the dense cover and only venture out into the open to feed at night. But Heatley, though he himself had killed a couple of bulls and the deer farmer who was working for him another, had preserved the herd from outside molestation, and their habits were doubtless much what they would have been in regions where man is a rare visitor.

Grazing Habits of the Buffalo.

"The first day we were on Heatley's farm we saw the buffalo, to the number of seventy or eighty, grazing in an open some hundreds of yards from the papyrus swamp, and this plain side in one way to be mentioned hereafter.

"Probably when the moon was full the buffalo came out to graze by night, but while we were on our hunt the moon was young, and the buffalo evidently spent most of the night in the papyrus and came out to graze by day. Sometimes they came out in the early morning, sometimes in the late evening, but quite as often in the bright daylight. We saw herds come out to graze at 10 o'clock in the morning and again at 2 in the afternoon. They

Transporting Dynamite In An Auto.

A new use was found for an automobile recently when one was used by police department of Baltimore for the purpose of transporting dynamite over six miles of rough roads, a difficult and dangerous task, safely accomplished, however, as a result of the smooth riding qualities of the car. The least jar or jounce might have resulted in an explosion, but so smoothly did the car travel and at a good speed, too, for the men in it were anxious to get rid of their dangerous package, that it was safely carried to its destination without trouble.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not unusual for a man or a woman to be afflicted with weak kidneys. If a child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold in cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

MALE MUFF WEARER.

Says Women Age His Sex, So He Has Right to Their Apparel.

Social and artistic St. Louis is in a hubbub, and all on account of a huge astrakhan muff.

The reason is that the muff made its appearance in the foyer of the Odeon theater the other night, clutched by the distinguished fingers of McNair Hightfritz, society man, genius and eccentric, the grandson of the first governor of Missouri, from whom he got his first name.

In refuting the charge of effeminacy Mr. Hightfritz says that "in these days of militant and manly women we poor men, who are gradually being robbed of all our distinctive attributes and claims to superiority as the stronger sex, have the perfect right to counter-balance the movement, and if we exercise a few feminine comforts and privileges surely no one can complain."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA HIS LARYNX FOR SCIENCE.

Cleveland's Thirty Cent Egg Club.

Frank S. Krusius, a lawyer of Cleveland, O., recently began circulating pledges for membership in a "thirty cent egg club." He declares that 30 cents is the natural price for eggs and insists that the price can be kept at that figure if Clevelanders refuse to pay more. He asserts that eggs are made in cold storage whenever the supply threatens to cut prices.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA HIS LARYNX FOR SCIENCE.

Outdoor Vocalist Also Willed His Lungs to Medical College.

Alfred Morphy of Chicago, known as an outdoor singer, received a letter while in Detroit the other day asking him for a price on his larynx and lungs. The letter was from Dr. James H. Blair of the Bennett Medical college of Chicago. The letter was asking enough to induce Morphy to go to Chicago.

Morphy had practically concluded terms when his family intervened, and to get time to reconsider he returned to Detroit. Dr. Blair followed him to that city, raised his price, and Morphy sold his larynx and lungs to the medical college for the benefit of science after his death.

The organs were wanted because Morphy was once apparently in the last stages of consumption and was cured by outdoor singing. He formerly sang only in halls. Dr. Blair, advising the change, Morphy has put a clause in his will leaving the organs to the college.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this situation for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth."

It investigates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c. at Sever's Drug store.

Its Troubles.

The family skeleton complained. "I wouldn't mind being exhibited once in awhile," said the skeleton, as it was being exhibited in a museum, as it was being exhibited in a museum, as it was being exhibited in a museum.

THE SPORTING WORLD

Sheridan to Tour the World.

Immediately after competing in the national all around championships in San Francisco next July Martin Sheridan, world's famous athlete, will leave this country on an around the world tour, which he expects will keep him away from America for the best part of two years. Though it would seem that a westward course would be the easiest, Sheridan will work eastward, making Ireland his first stop, and will day with his people the big cup will hop over to England and Scotland and then work his way by easy degrees through all the athletically inclined nations of Europe. Russia included. From there he will go on through India and China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia and Hawaii before coming home to America. He says nothing just now of visiting South Africa, but the chances are he will tackle that proposition along with the others.

Sheridan has had the travel bug for a long time. He has seen a good part of the earth's surface, but he wants to see more, and, above all things, he wants to win where national championships are held.

Gotch Touts Cutler.

Frank Gotch is credited with saying that Kid Cutler is the best qualified wrestler in America to take his place when he gets ready to surrender the championship title. Gotch has taken an interest in Cutler and has taught him a number of his tricks. He says, however, that Cutler has a serious fault. Gotch says:

"Ideas are all the Chicago boy lacks. He cannot see ten times as fast as I am. He is not quite so strong in the legs as I am, but otherwise he is fully as good. In my opinion there is not an American wrestler of today who can throw Cutler, and I think the next time he meets Zyzoo he will turn the fat man on his back. Remember, now, what I have predicted and watch the outcome."

Cutler and I have matched strength in our arms and shoulders. He is my superior from the waist up. He is also fast on his feet, but not quite as fast as I am. He is not quite so strong in the legs as I am, but otherwise he is fully as good. In my opinion there is not an American wrestler of today who can throw Cutler, and I think the next time he meets Zyzoo he will turn the fat man on his back. Remember, now, what I have predicted and watch the outcome."

Turfman Sanders Back in Game.
Millard Sanders, who was racing up and down the grand circuit thirty odd years ago, when John Splan, Orrin Hickok, Charles Marvin, John R. Turner and the Goldsmith brothers were in the zenith of their popularity, is to be seen in grand circuit company the coming season after an absence of several years from big ring company.

For the past three seasons Millard has been training the Sterling Holt horses at Indianapolis, occasionally going to a half mile ring with some promising colts, but devoting all of his attention to the Sidney Dillon stock, with which he has had uniformly good success.

Keene Not Quitting Turf.
James R. Keene will have a bigger and stronger stable than ever in training next season, although he managed to carry off leading honors last year with more than $1,000. 1907 Mr. Keene's horses won more than $400,000, a world's record.

He has made liberal nominations this year to the important stakes for which entries closed recently. The Keene turf venture in England will not be entirely abandoned, but more time will be devoted to racing in America during the coming season.

Lord to Captain Red Sox.
Harry Lord, third baseman, who was the first of the Boston Americans players to sign for next season, has been appointed captain by Manager Pat Donovan. Lord was the leader of the Red Sox in 1906 after Doc Cappellet was released to Washington. Harry is a magnetic player, and it is the general opinion of the fans that if he had been captain of the team all during the 1906 campaign the Red Sox would have finished at least second and might possibly have won the pennant.

MINING OF OUR HARBORS.

Scope of Work Done to Defend New York.

HER WATER GATES ALL SAFE.

Planted With New Submarine Mine That Allows Friends to Pass, but Not Foes—Death From Below Now Awaits All Invaders Who Come From the Sea.

A short time ago it was announced by General Murray, chief of the United States coast artillery, in his annual report to the secretary of war that after years of endeavor it had been found possible to plant submarine mines in the deep waters of the Race at the eastern end of Long Island sound. Until quite recently it had not been possible to plant them in water more than 125 feet in depth. The recent accomplishment of this feat closes the gap in the line of New York city's defense most difficult to shut. The announcement of this fact also particularly marks the successful close of a series of experiments with mines to make them more effective as engines of war.

Can Be Blown to Kingdom Come. Part of Admiral Dewey's famous words on his remark, "D— the torpedoes!" or words and actions to that effect, when he entered Manila bay in 1898. What was brave in 1898 today would be counted foolhardiness for conditions have changed. For years men in the artillery service of the United States army have been experimenting quietly with submarine mines until it is believed that today the United States leads in this branch of defensive warfare. As a result of these experiments it is possible to mine a harbor in such a way that a friend could enter in safety, while the vessel of an enemy passing over the same spot in its wake would be blown to "kingdom come."

A mine has been designed which is not only in the control of an operator on shore, but is its own annunciator and a guide for the marksmanship of the artilleryman, as well as the operator of the mines. Groups of mines are connected by electric cables with switchboards located in casemates on shore. On these switchboards, or operating boards, as they are called, are electric bulbs, one for each mine, and a bell. When a mine is touched, a vessel a circuit is completed through the mine and the operating board. The bell rings and the bulb corresponding to the mine shines out, indicating which mine has been touched, and, therefore, the exact location of the vessel. The location is communicated instantly to the artillery and mortar batteries commanding the channel, which begin fire at the pre-determined range. The operator at the board turns a switch, which sends through the cable a current of sufficient intensity to explode the mine. Assailed in this fashion from above and below, it seems probable that the vessel and its crew, in an exceedingly brief space of time would be swallowed up in a watery grave.

To Plant Mine Harbors.
Plans have been made for the planting of many harbors with this terrible engine of war, but the chosen location of these mines in case of war is not known, even to those who would actually place them at the opening of the harbors. They are known only to certain officers, and the details are kept sealed in a safe, to be opened only upon the beginning of warfare.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To Clean Wool Garments.

To remove grease from woolen cloth, sponge the stain well with equal parts of ammonia and water, then with clear water. The ammonia forms a soap with the fat or grease, and this is soluble in water and will rinse out. If the stain is obstinate warm soap of white soap and ammonia will do good work in most cases.

When the garment is of a color which will not stand water or ammonia the housewife may resort to dry powders. For thin clothing of delicate tints pure white starch makes an excellent cleaner for men's and boys' garments. The spot and allowed to remain until it has absorbed the grease. Dry magnesia works in the same way, but costs more. A paste made of magnesia and water may be allowed to dry on some colors and will brush away, taking the grease with it.

White woolens of almost any kind are best renovated by washing with white soap suds and borax. A mixture of four parts of alcohol and one of common salt makes an excellent cleaner for men's and boys' garments.

Turpentine is necessary when there is grease in any quantity. The stain is wet with the turpentine, then pressed dry between clean blotters, which absorb the compound.

In cleaning, experiment upon a sample of the goods before attacking a garment of value.

Hints For the Sickroom.

Keeping the patient's feet warm will prevent headaches. Oil all locks and soap window cords to make them work easily and thus save any undue noise.

When the sickroom is being ventilated a screen should be passed in front of the window to prevent the danger of a draft. People in general are not aware how essential it is to the health and happiness of the patient that there should be a free admission of light in the sickroom.

Flowers should be always kept fresh in a sickroom and the water frequently changed. Avoid all flowers with a strong scent.

Improved Carpet Stretcher.

The secret of the success achieved by the professional in laying carpet consists chiefly of the use of implements which have not heretofore been altogether available for use by the amateur. This is not so any longer for there has been devised a tack holder and carpet stretcher, which functions are combined in a single

LAYS CARPET SIMPLY.

Implement of such simple and inexpensive construction that it will soon take its place among the household implements which are regarded as essential. This apparatus provides a third hand, which holds a tack in the right place for driving while the carpet is stretched on the floor. It also alleviates all danger of crushing the fingers with the hammer in the effort to drive the nail.

Suet Pudding.

Measure one cupful of suet chopped fine, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of cold coffee, two cupfuls of raisins, seeded and chopped; one and one-half cupfuls of currants, washed and dried; one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda and one teaspoonful each of your favorite spices. Mix flour, raisins, currants and soda together, then add other ingredients. Pour into a well buttered one gallon bucket or divide into smaller pails, cover tightly and set in a kettle of boiling water and boil five hours. The longer you boil it the better.

Scotch Oat Cakes.

One pound oat Scotch oatmeal, one tablespoonful melted butter, enough cold water to make a smooth dough. Put the butter with the oatmeal, add salt and cream. Knead till very smooth, roll very thin, divide into cakes and place on a hot griddle. When done rub with dry oatmeal and toast before the fire till they curl up.

Spaghetti and Tomatoes.

Boil one-half pound of spaghetti till tender and drain; then add one-half cupful of cream, one-third cupful of butter, pepper and salt. Let simmer for a short time, but don't let it cook up. Turn into vegetable dish. Have ready one pint of steamed tomatoes and pour over the spaghetti and serve.

Apple Butter Custard Pie.

Beat together four eggs, one teaspoonful of apple butter, one of sugar, one teaspoonful of allspice; add one quart of rich milk and a pinch of salt. Bake in three pies with an under crust only.

COUNTY UNIT BILL

FIGHT WILL GO ON
Plan It Is Claimed Is to Keep On Introducing Similar Bills.

(Special to The Herald.)

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23.—Advocates of the County Unit extension bill say that the fight will not end with this last week's efforts to get the bill referred to a favorable committee but that they intend to keep hammering away the remainder of the session until the bill is passed or the session comes to a end. The plan now is to keep on introducing bills in the Senate, as fast as one is killed, so that there is likely to be a County Unit Extension Bill before the Senate, in some form, during the entire session. About twelve or fourteen county unit bills will be introduced in the Senate, if one does not get through before that many have been necessary.

During the last week in the Senate there was much excitement over the reference of the County Unit bill. The opponents of the measure wanted the bill referred to the committee on Religion and Morals where it would have a chance of being reported favorably. The temperance forces wanted to have the bill referred to the committee of which Senator Grisham is chairman. It is said these two committees are the only ones which would report favorably a bill extending the county unit law to every county in the State. The committees were made up so that all except these two have a majority of the members opposite to the county unit law.

THE EASTERN FARMER.

Why His Lot Is Unnecessarily and Unfairly Hard at Present.

To the Editor of The Sun:—Sir: I was much interested in reading over the financial articles in The Sun this morning to note your comments concerning the high prices of necessities in the Eastern part of the country, special mention being made of meat, butter, milk and eggs, the idea being evidently that the farmer was responsible in large part. Perhaps the farmers in the Eastern section of the country were treated by the bankers with the same consideration that farmers in the Western part of the country are. Eastern farms would not be selling far below their worth, while a Western farm can hardly be obtained at any price.

If an Eastern farmer wishes money to buy improved machinery or to repair or put up buildings or for other improvement purposes, can he go to a bank and get it? In the East he cannot, but he must wait until the bank is able to meet that farm hand's are not a legal investment for savings banks, etc., while any one who can obtain a village or city lot can obtain the money to put buildings and improve the same. So long as this unfair discrimination continues and the Eastern farmer does not get an opportunity to help himself, all this lot air that is being given forth at the present time will be of very little material benefit. Give the Eastern farmer a square deal and the same treatment and consideration that is accorded to other members of a community and he will be glad to send his son to an agricultural college, to adopt improved machinery and methods and all the rest of it, to the advantage of himself and of the community.

Oklahoma Rural Route Post.

From The Kansas City Times.

When R. I. Devore, carrier on rural route No. 1, out of Tonkawa, pulled up his old dog at E. E. Youman's box and shivered as he peeled off his gloves, he found a fat cap in the box and the following homespun verse:

Here's to the good old man
That brings our news each day;
He scratches the penicils out of the box
And goes smiling on his way.
He carries the belated schoolboy,
And packages of butter and such.
He gets the thanks of the patrons
But then, that isn't much.
We all wish him a happy New Year,
And hope he will continue to bring
The news of the surrounding country,
Till the news is all gathered in.

And some of them getting ripe!

But ever the hungry throngs

And stand on my sawdust floor.

They'll sooner starve than eat

Till down goes the price of meat.

"WHY I DO NOT GO TO CHURCH"

As Told By Cloverport People.

The following answers have been gathered from Cloverport people in answer to the question, "Why do you not come to church?"

The men truthfully said; each one as follows:

"I do not know."

"That church is too warm, it is not ventilated."

"The church is going to the bad. Give shows and then preach against them. I would rather go out in the street and work for the money to give to a church than to contradict my religion."

"I would rather stay at home and read a good piece."

"I have to get up so early in the morning and I am tired when I get home at nights."

"There are so many using the church to cover up their meanness."

"I can't get cleaned up in time."

"I can't hear. It don't do me any good. That's a right good talker though. Maybe I will go. I have got nothing to hinder me."

"I have to work every evening."

"What must I go for? I don't play cards nor dance."

"I have very urgent correspondence that I have to attend to every night."

"Church, I haven't been on that side of the creek at night but once since the fire."

The women said, each one as follows:

"I have to stay home with the baby."

"I don't like the way that man preaches."

"I haven't anyone to go with."

"I get tired of hearing the preachers preach to women. They act like women are the only ones who ever commit any sins. They say very little about gambling places, dirty tricks of men in elections and business."

"I am not through washing dishes when church begins."

"I have not been outside my house but once in three months, and that was across the street."

"WHY I DO GO TO CHURCH"

By a Church Member

Why do I go to church? To see some one else go? To see a good example to follow? To satisfy my curiosity? Because I have nothing else to do? Because it is my duty? Because I want more spiritual knowledge? Because I want to worship? We may ask ourselves these questions, they are well worth answers to the question "Why do you not go to church?" are given and in this article are brought together some reasons given for going to church.

One thing most assuredly is that Rev. Pat Davis is a splendid evangelist, and Sunday night he said he would give any man in Cloverport one hundred dollars who could beat him preaching. Rev. Davis declares that he did not bring a meeting to Cloverport in his vest pocket, but that the good that he has done or might do has been brought through the High Power. But surely he must be to blame for some things that have taken place in the meeting, the children's choir for instance. It is a wonderful little body of singers and there is hardly a child in town who is not wearing a badge given by Brother Davis.

"I have to study at night."

"Oh, I have so much to do, I can't go."

"I have gotten out of the habit."

"I haven't anyone to urge me to go."

"I just don't go. I think church going comes with age."

And "the grown folks choir" is getting big too. The members of the church choir have been faithful in their services and gotten others to help them with the singing. It seems good to hear those who have rich talents united together. Miss Margaret Burns has charge of the organ and Miss Lela Severs plays the piano. Misses Eva and Eliza May, Miss Georgia White, Mrs. Rowland, Mr. A. H. Murray and Mr. Simons are nearly always on hands to lead the singing. The Leaguers come in when others are needed and are most willing to do their part when they are wanted.

Rev. and Mrs. Dillon have thrown their whole hearts into the meeting, as have many other Christians. Mrs. Dillon is an ideal Christian worker. Many have manifested interest at every service and the revival has already been a great benefit to all the denominations. Mr. Chas. Lightfoot said Sunday morning the meeting had been a help to the whole town.

If you haven't been, go. The afternoon services open at two o'clock and the evening services at 7 o'clock sharp.

PERUNA EDITORIAL NO. 1.

Dr. Hartman is now offering Peruna to the public as a regular pharmaceutical product. It is just as ethical as any compound put up for the medical profession. No straining of medical ethics can find any fault with it. THE PRINCIPAL ACTIVE INGREDIENTS are prominently incorporated in the label on the bottle, that the people may know that the claims made for Peruna have a true justification.

The only departure we shall make from medical ethics in the conduct of Peruna affairs in the future, is the fact that we shall continue to advertise and sell our product TO THE PEOPLE.

If we would agree to sell to doctors only, to advertise for doctors only, then the medical fraternity would be obliged to recognize Peruna as being entitled to their approval.

BUT WE SHALL NOT DO THIS.

We shall continue to offer Peruna to the people. We shall continue to convey to the people our claims for Peruna as a household remedy. We shall continue to supply the people with free literature, teaching them how to use our medicine, teaching them how to avoid disease, teaching them many things of benefit to the home. We shall continue to do this, whether the medical profession like it or not.

We are proposing from this time on to take the public into our confidence. Notwithstanding that some imitators and substitutes will be attempting to put up something which they consider just as good as Peruna, we are going to draw aside the veil of secrecy and allow any one who chooses to know exactly OF WHAT PERUNA IS COMPOSED.

This ought to disarm all honest criticism. We expect, however, that criticism will continue. On some pretext or other those who are envious of the success of Peruna will continue to find fault. But we are determined to give such people no just complaint.

People Who Object to Liquid Medicines Can Now Secure Peruna Tablets.

PERUNA IS A GREAT MEDICINE. It has become a household word in millions of homes. Our faith in the remedy is stronger than ever. Every year we expect to cover new fields in foreign lands until the people of all the world are supplied with this valuable household remedy.

WE CLAIM PERUNA TO BE A CATARRH REMEDY. Buy a bottle and try it. If it helps you, be honest and acknowledge that it has helped you.

If you want us to we will publish your statement exactly as you furnish it to us. We will add no words, take away no words. If you wish us to we will publish your portrait in connection with it. We will not do this without your written request, without your entire consent with chronic catarrh, in many places and locations. At least, that is what the people say to us, through unsolicited testimonials. Many thousands more will reap benefit from Peruna in spite of fabricated slanders to the contrary.

WE GUARANTEE EVERY BOTTLE OF PERUNA TO CONTAIN THE INGREDIENTS PRINTED ON THE LABEL.

We have taken great pains that every testimonial we use should be absolutely true, in the exact language of the testifier.

We have taken great pains that every photograph published should be the photograph of the person whose name it bears, that every word of every testimonial should be authorized by the hand that signed it.

We are determined to beat our opponents by being fairer than they are, by dealing square than they dare to. We are determined to meet falsehood with truth, duplicity with candor, insincerity with sincerity.

We know that the users of Peruna will appreciate our stand. We believe that the dealers in Peruna will applaud our course. We expect even our opponents will be obliged to acknowledge finally that Peruna is not only an honest and useful remedy, but one of the GREATEST HOUSEHOLD MEDICINES ON THE CONTINENT.

AROUND THE CORNER.

Going to Louisville is all right, but coming home bro's is another story. One young lady said the other day after returning home from the city, that she stepped off the train here with fifteen cents. One man who had gone through the same station said he went to Louisville fairly well supplied with coin last Friday, but when he got to the Union Station he had three cents in his pocket and was hungry too. A friend of his was "alk up" in and out of the depot eating an apple, but very time he looked at him, he poked his apple in his pocket. When he had eaten everything, but the core, the friend came and sat down by him.

"Was your apple good?" The man asked him and the friend answered, "Yes, I wish I had another."

The other night about twelve o'clock some one went through town whistling "Lead Kindly Light." "It was as sweet music as I have ever heard and I had gotten far into the distance. The last notes I heard were, 'Lead Thou Me On,' said the appreciative listener.

UPHOLDS FARMERS

Says People are Losing Sight of the Producing Element of
 This Country--Farmers Should Get Good Prices.

WHY NOT OTHERS THINK?

It does seem to me that the people generally, and especially those high up in power, are losing sight of the interest of the farming element of this country.

In their waging such a hard fight against high prices of meat, etc. The farmers are the producing element of this glorious country of ours and it does not seem fair to me to boycott their whole production and allow the manufacturers, trusts and combines to go unnoticed. It does not seem fair to charge the farmers outrageous and exorbitant prices for every thing that they manufacture and produce which the farmers of this country are almost compelled to buy from them in order to be able to procure the very meat and bread that the people are now tryi g to buyout.

It is true that most all the big packing concerns of this country which are nothing more than our gigantic trusts, get nearly all the meat and bread bought up in the country, then of course, the prices of the material go skyward!

The manufacturers, trusts and com-bins of this country, seem to be permitted, under the laws which we now live, to handle the producer and consumer, just about as they please.

And neither producer nor consumer can help himself. Who is responsible for these laws?

Give the wage earner better wages,
 put the whole people on equal footing with the manufacturers, trusts and combines under the laws of this country and they will be better able to pay the farmers who are the foundation stone of this government good prices for their products.

Surely it is time for the people to stop and think over this matter more seriously!

For Pain in Chest

For sore throat, sharp pain in lungs, tightness across the chest, hoarseness or cough, have the parts with Sloan's Liniment. You don't need to rub, just lay it on lightly. It penetrates instantly to the seat of the trouble, relieves congestion and stops the pain.

Here's the Proof.
Mr. A. W. Price, Fredonia, Kans., says: "We have used Sloan's Liniment for a year, and find it an excellent thing for sore throat, chest pains, colds, and hay fever attacks. A few drops taken on sugar stops coughing and sneezing instantly."

Sloan's Liniment

is easier to use than porous plasters, acts quicker and does not clog up the pores of the skin. It is an excellent anesthetic remedy for asthma, bronchitis, and all inflammatory diseases of the throat and chest; will break up the deadly membrane in an attack of croup, and will kill any kind of malarial or rheumatic pains.

All druggists keep Sloan's Liniment.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

A Place For Everything.

Recently I stepped into a farmer's barn and looked about, writes a correspondent of Farm and Fireside. The harness was thrown on the half floor in a promiscuous heap. The saddles were over in a corner, and I noticed the mice had been working on them. A currycomb and brush and three horse blankets lay near by. The hallway seemed to be a general "catch all." I even noticed a hatched and saw lying loose, and several barrels were stretched across the floor.

The owner of all this material was as slovenly with his farming as with his barn. There was no air of prosperity about his place. A short time afterward I was in the barn that belonged to the same neighbor, and it showed a different view. The owner seemed to have a place for everything. In the hallway was the harness, but each set hung on its own peg. A box near the stalls contained brush and currycomb. At one end of the hallway I found a miniature work shop and bench, and every tool was in its place. Horse covers and halters hung on nails in their corners, and everything about had the appearance of neatness. Needless to say, it was a prosperous, up-to-date farmer who owned this barn. Everything about the place showed the touch of his skilled hand.

Winter Manuring.

Some farmers condemn the practice of spreading such manure on frozen land as wasteful and extravagant. Other prosperous men are enthusiastic in their praise of winter manuring. This inference of opinion is based partly, but not altogether, on experience obtained under different conditions.

I believe that the opinion that this method is wasteful is usually based on prejudice only.

Manure drawn out and spread from day to day in winter, on grass lands especially, I have found beneficial. It retards the melting of the snow, protects from the cold winds, and as the snow melts its juices are carried down to the roots, which hastens the growth of the grass. In the summer this manure protects the roots from the sun, and through increased growth of the top and the roots the humus in the soil is increased and the productivity of the soil benefited.—Cor. Farm and Fireside.

cannot harm the little chicks later on. Were chicken houses disinfected occasionally there would be fewer outbreaks of disease.

When killing meat animals do not neglect to save some of the scraps to feed the hens and ducks.

Any arrangement for supplying fresh water at all times is well worth serious consideration and installation. In charcoal water has provided a simple remedy for many of the common poultry ailments. Provide plenty of it.

There is no gift required for successful poultry raising. Plain common sense and willingness to work are the essentials.

Small potatoes and turnips saved when the crops were gathered are valuable poultry food at this time if well chopped.

The Farmer and the Incubator.

One point, and an important one, in favor of the incubator is the fact that it can be put to work early turning out chicks, and consequently the farmer can have all the March or April chicks he desires, says the Poultry Tribune. The cost of these chicks is not too high, and in fact, at a time when they will bring the best prices, which is not possible, in any considerable number at least, in the case of hen hatched chicks for the simple reason that it is impossible to get a sufficient number of broody hens so early in the season. The pullets from these early hatches will begin laying early in the fall, while the hens are in molt and when eggs are high in price, and if given proper care will keep it up all winter. Early pullets properly cared for make the best of winter layers.

Selecting Brood Sows.

Prolificacy usually is a family characteristic, and it is wise to select a prospective brood sow from a large litter of robust pigs. The strongest pigs of a litter most suitable for prospective sows usually nurse from the teats nearest to the front of the udder. The prospective sow may therefore be chosen before she is taken from her dam. In selecting brood sows the highest possible standard of excellence should be retained, and all others should be marketed for pork.—Professor Fuller, Wisconsin Experiment Station.

Plant Fruit Trees.

Plant fruit trees on the uncultivated spots along the fence lines and in the fields. The investment is good—adds to the beauty of farm and to the value of it. Be sure fruit trees are set where they will have sufficient drainage. Many a tree is blighted by its owner for being a bad variety when the fault is in the drainage.—Farm and Ranch.

Cows Need Good Care.

Don't try to keep too many cows if your farm is small. Keep a few good ones and care for them well. Sometimes good cows and good feed may produce poor results if the management is not right.—Homestead.

GUINEA PIGS TO AID HEALTH.

Illinois Biological Laboratory Will Use Animals in Milk Tests.

One room of the soon to be established Illinois biological laboratory is to be devoted to experiments on guinea pigs to determine whether cows' milk contains tuberculosis bacilli, but it is not probable the guinea pig industry will begin at once, for the manufacture of hog cholera serum will have right of way over the diagnosis of milk.

But the ordinary and the guinea pigs will receive injections when the laboratory work gets in full swing, the former of blood from infected hogs and the latter of milk. Hog cholera serum is obtained from the tail of a pig that has been made immune by proper infusions of diseased blood.

Governor Harmon Likes White House

During the recent visit of thirty governors to the White House, Governor Harmon of Ohio advanced to one of the south windows and admired the view stretching to the Potomac.

"How do you like the view?" asked Governor Brady of Idaho.

"It is fine," replied Governor Harmon. "This is a splendid house, and I understand it is for rent every four years."

"Are you going to apply for a lease?" "I shall have to consult Mrs. Harmon about that," guardedly replied Ohio's Democratic executive.

When this story was repeated to Secretary of State Knox, who also was present, he inquired, "He hasn't seen the upstairs rooms yet, though, has he?"

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

The Republican Whip.

With the majority party in the house of representatives divided over the rules of procedure, the duties of John Whitier Dwight, the Republican whip, have been decidedly on the strenuous order of late. Mr. Dwight is quite new in the position of whip, his first experience being in the extra session last summer, when he was kept busy lining up his party for the Payne tariff bill. He succeeded James E. Watson of Indiana.

JOHN W. DWIGHT

diana, who for many years wielded the majority whip. Mr. Watson gave up congress to become the Republican candidate for governor of Indiana in 1908, but was defeated at the polls. Congressman Dwight is a native of Dryden, N. Y., where he has always resided, and will be fifty-one next May. He represents the Thirtieth New York district and was elected to the Fifty-fifth congress to fill a vacancy. Since then he has been regularly returned. He is one of the most popular members of his state delegation and has won fame as a harmonizer. It seems not unlikely that he will need all of this quality he possesses for some time to come.

Nabuco a Versatile Genius.

Ambassador Nabuco of Brazil is one of the most accomplished leaders in Washington. It was said by Director John Barrett of the pan-American bureau that he could write a treatise on international law in English with his right hand and a French poem with the other which would deceive the critics into thinking it was the work of some renowned poet.

He was brought up in the days of the Brazilian empire in a cultured home full of the most refined associations. He speaks English with fluency, and he says that the young men of his country of that day spent their time among books, while now the young men of the same age take trips to the United States and England to complete their education along business lines. The ambassador has had the benefit of both systems, and he works at his desk standing, presenting an unusual appearance from his six feet in height and military carriage. He was an ardent supporter of the great emperor and one of the last to be reconciled to his being driven from the throne.

Minister to Persia.

From a clerkship in the department of justice twenty years ago to a portfolio in the diplomatic service is the record of Charles W. Russell, recently appointed minister to Persia. In the meantime Mr. Russell had risen by force of ability through the various grades in the department to the post of assistant attorney general.

During the last Roosevelt administration Mr. Russell was made a special assistant attorney general in charge of insular affairs, to look after matters in our island possessions. Then he was employed to investigate the title to the Panama canal at the time this government was about to acquire that property. In the course of his investigation he went to Paris, and his work was so well done that Attorney General Knox adopted his report after only a few days' examination in the French capital on his own account. Subsequently Mr. Russell was engaged in making investigations of various charges against judges and other federal officials, especially western and territorial officials. In all his work he has won the praise of his superiors.

The new minister is a native of Wheeling, W. Va., and is fifty-three years old. He was appointed assistant attorney general four years ago.

The Real Farmer.

To the Editor of The Sun—Sir: I read with surprise your article on eggs at 60 cents a dozen and the remarks the commission man made about the farmers riding in automobiles. These silly statements made by the middleman are simply attempts to place the "blame on the poor farmer while the commission man is quietly putting the money in his pocket, taking no risk, reporting cases of eggs as broken or seconds when there is no flaw in them. There are hundreds of agents sent out by commission houses to visit the farmer and offer him the lowest prices. Meanwhile the grain man keeps his price up, and I have known of three poultry plants selling out this year because they could not pay the grain bills.

Many so-called gentlemen farmers have business in the city and are the owners of large estates. They may ride in automobiles, but the farmer who has his house usually mortgaged eats no meat, never has cream, can afford no hired help, and never eats eggs; he does not ride in an automobile; he is the real farmer and the man who needs help.

I had about twenty-five chickens on hand at my summer place, and not knowing what to do with them gave them to a commission man of good standing. Chickens were 38 and 32 cents a pound; he gave me 15 cents a pound, and I had to pay about 50 cents express besides. With the price of birds when young at 25 cents each, the feed for four months (labor not counted), I was out about $6. Now if eggs, and by that I mean fresh hen eggs, are 60 and 50 cents a dozen, I will find a few farmers for your customers in that congested city who will be glad to sell their eggs at 45 cents a dozen.

OUR HIGHWAYS THE WORST.

Englishman Declares That He Found No Such Poor Ones Elsewhere.

While on a visit to this country recently Robert H. Jackson of Walburn Lodge, London, had during an interview occasion to criticize the condition of our highways. Mr. Jackson said: "No country I have visited has such poor roads as the United States. This is surprising to me, for if there is any improvement a nation can make that pays for itself it is the building of first class highways. I spent several weeks in Indiana at Terre Haute, and as I am interested largely in farming, I made frequent trips through the surrounding country. Some of the roads were six inches deep in dust, and in the winter I doubt whether the wheels of the cars could find their way. I have seen roads in England that have been in use for centuries. This makes a first class, durable road that will keep in good condition during all seasons of the year. Over here most of the roads are made by simply turning the turf and grading. At least that is how they improved me."

Mr. Haddock Says Do Not Blame Farmers For High Prices They are Only Lifting Mortgages.

Conditions are certainly getting serious with the wage workers when he can not afford to eat meat. When the heads of the concern for which they are working can afford to ride in $10,000 autos, drink fine wine and eat, Potter house at 75c per pound. Don't blame the farmer he is only getting just compensation for his labor and investment. His bank account is not growing. He is busy lifting the mortgages that were caused to be placed on his home in the past by the tobacco and meat trusts. This boycott on provisions will only effect the producer and will soon have him joining a society to go bar footed. Raise the wages, and the wage workers can eat meat at the present price.

A Bill The Paper Must Pay

Every line in a newspaper costs proprietor something. It is for benefit of the individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one unable to pay for them he would be the proprietor of a newspaper. The proprietors of a newspaper pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned many, that a newspaper has space columns to rent and must live. To give away rent for any less than living rates is as a newspaper as for a landlord to rent free.—Exchange.
